KALEIDOSCOPE

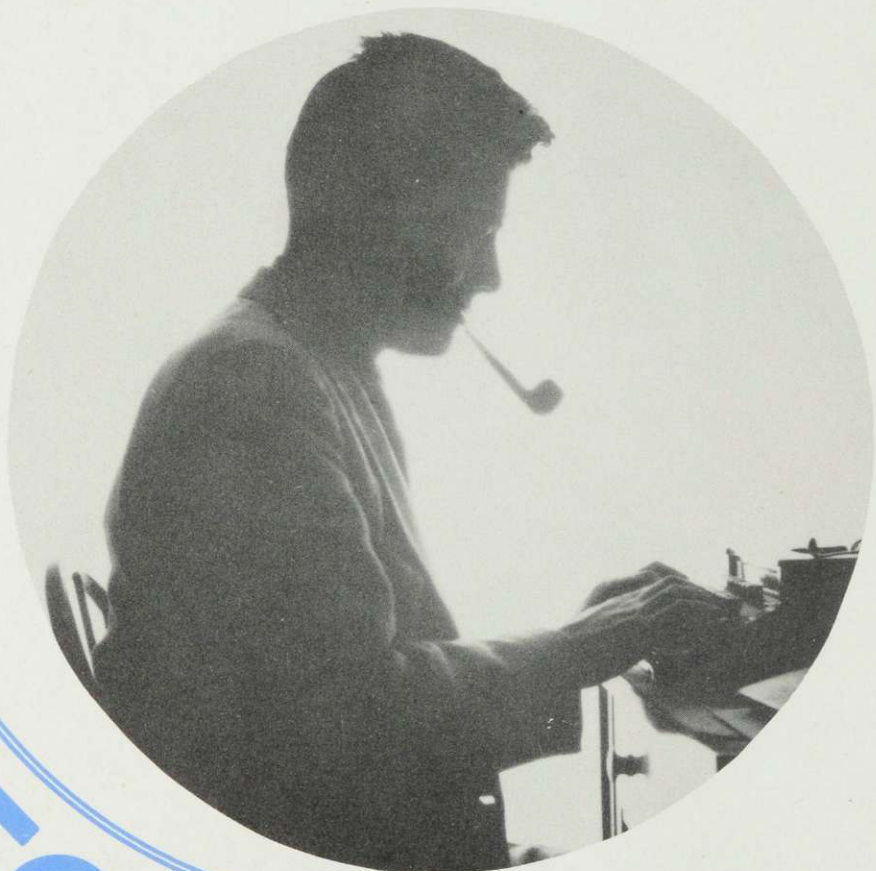
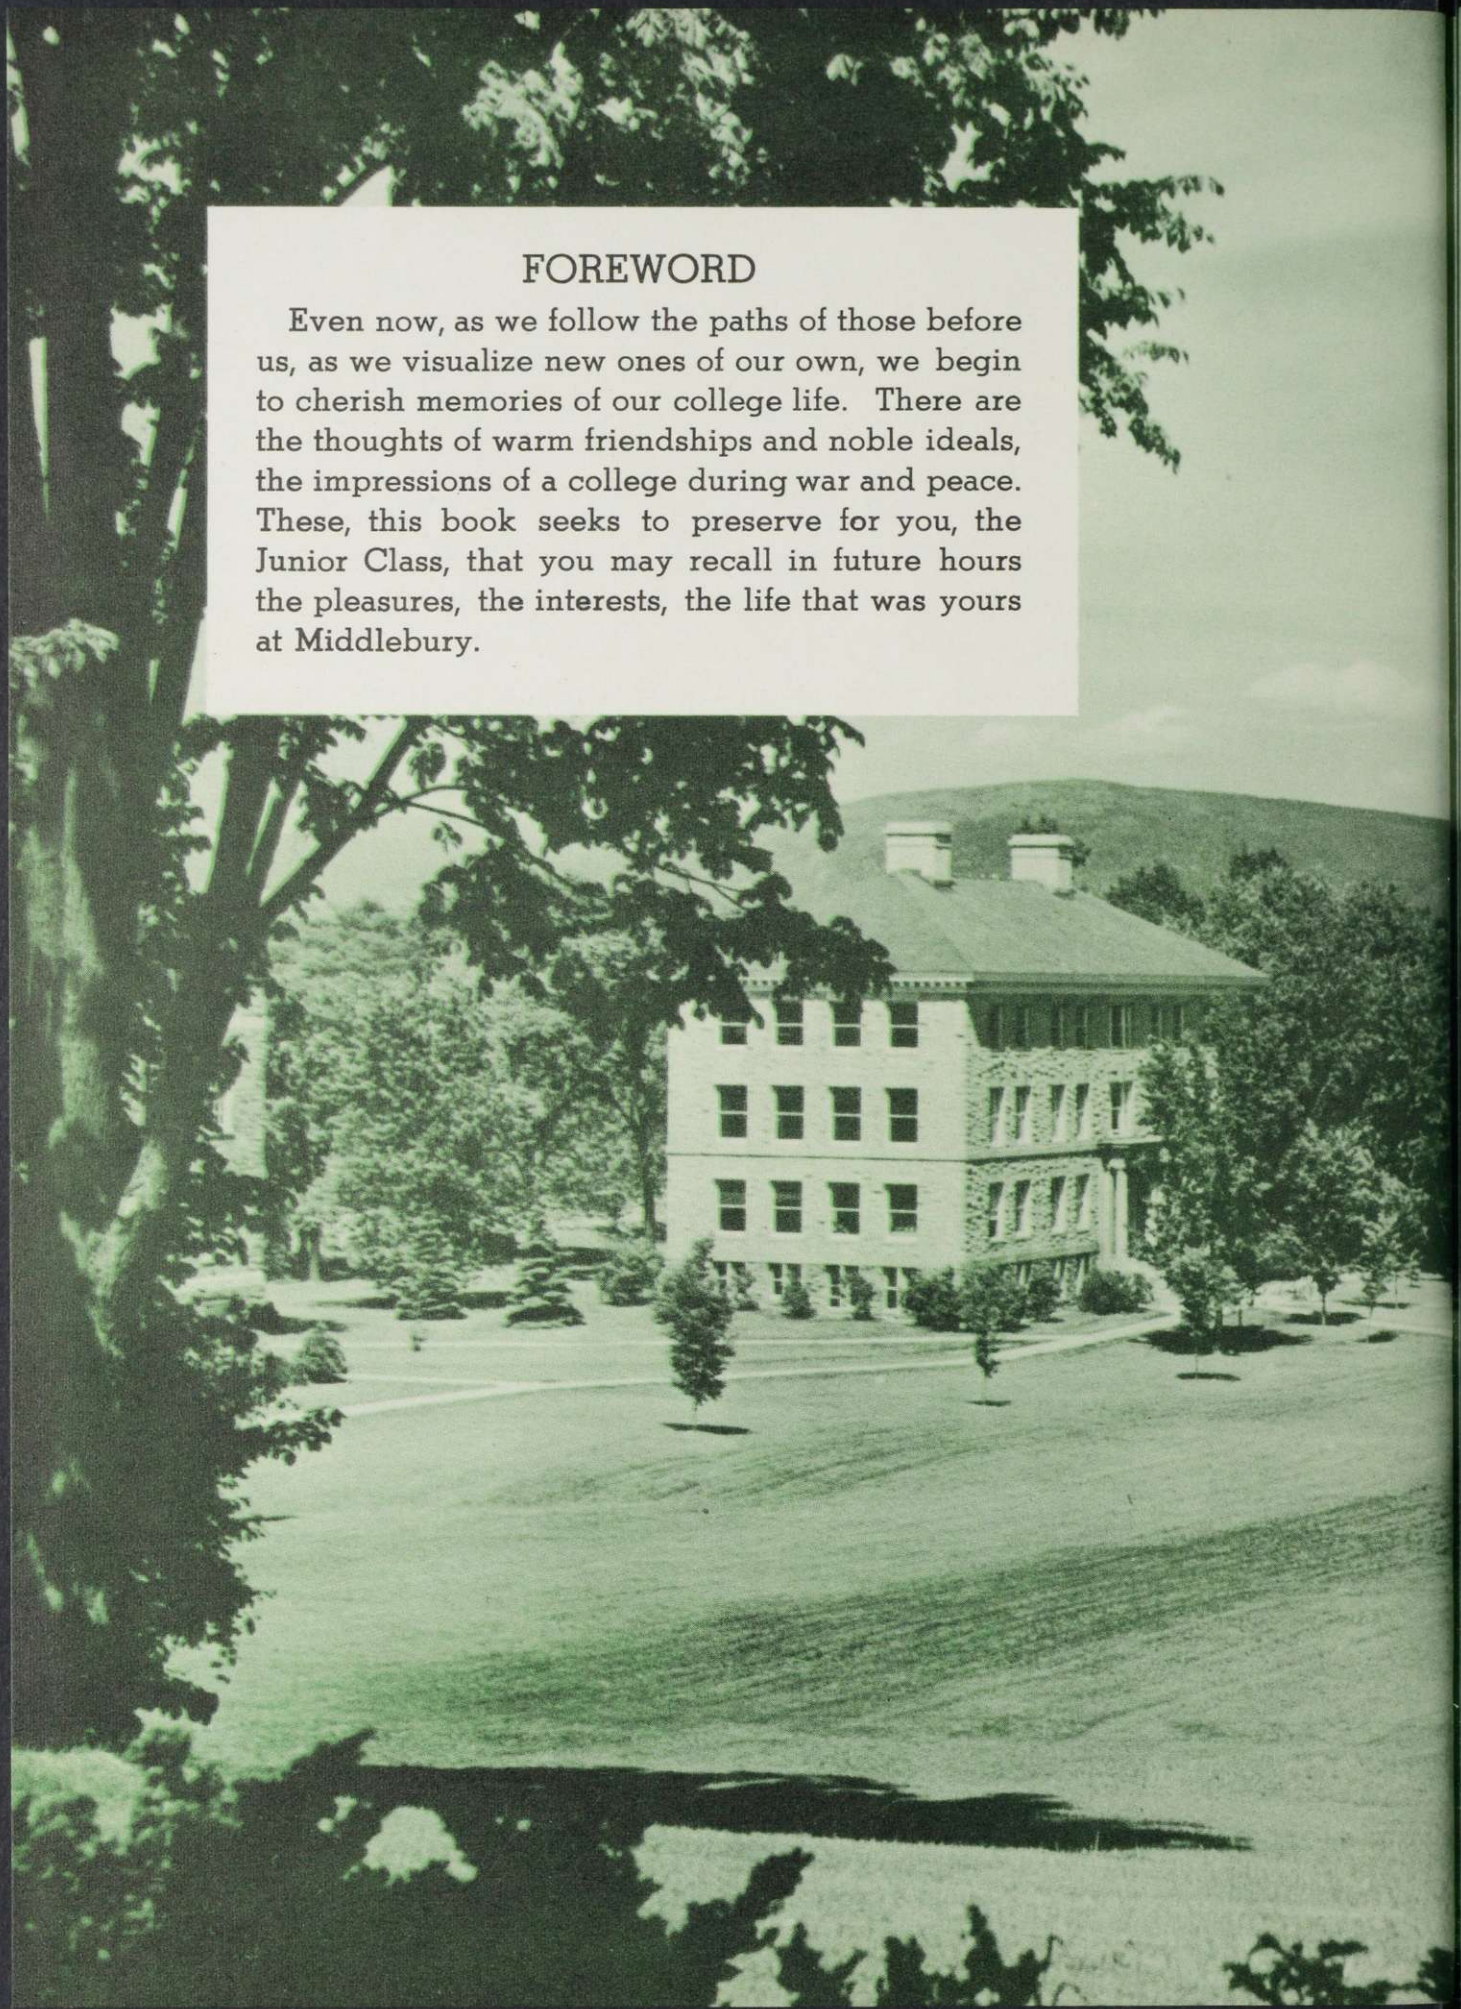
Dedicated



TO MIDDLEBUR

The Junior Class dedicates the 1948 KALEIDOSCOPE to the Middlebury men who have served with the fighting forces of our country. We welcome those who are here for the first time and those who are returning to the campus. We cannot say that with their arrival college life has slipped into a prewar normalcy; that will never be possible, for the new field house will stand as a constant reminder of the darker days that changed all college life on all campuses. We can only say that it is good to have them back; they are helping to create a postwar atmosphere which is reminiscent of what college was like before 1941. Their revival of varsity teams, of fraternities, their participation in clubs, in publications, in discussions has given a new vitality to all that is "Middlebury."

Y'S VETERANS



FOREWORD

Even now, as we follow the paths of those before us, as we visualize new ones of our own, we begin to cherish memories of our college life. There are the thoughts of warm friendships and noble ideals, the impressions of a college during war and peace. These, this book seeks to preserve for you, the Junior Class, that you may recall in future hours the pleasures, the interests, the life that was yours at Middlebury.

Freshman Week

Not since the early "forties" had Freshman Week made an appearance in September. On the evening of the twenty-third, the Class of 1950 first assembled as a group at the Playhouse. College life had begun. A reception for the new students and their advisors followed the meeting. Tuesday brought a lecture on the use of the library, preliminary examinations, and a Student Union reception for the women. The Mountain Club's Freshman Outing, with scavenger hunts and games, took place the following day at the Women's Athletic Field. Thursday night Dr. Stratton addressed the class at Mead Chapel, and on Friday movies of life at Middlebury were presented, Carnival, graduation, and "sugaring off." "Midd Nite" on Saturday evening climaxed Freshman Week. The first stage of orientation was over!

Homecoming

The first Homecoming week-end since 1942 was observed this fall with the spirited return of over two hundred alumni to "the college on the hill." An exuberant keynote was set by the fraternity house decorations and continued throughout the Trinity football game, informal gym dance, and buffet luncheon which the visiting graduates attended. The week-end also marked the official opening of the Memorial Fund Drive.

Alumni Week-end

The alumni organizations sponsored no class reunions at the first postwar commencement, but the week-end was open to all alumni. Plans were discussed for the Memorial Fund Drive by the executive committee. Portraits of Dr. John M. Thomas, Dr. Paul D. Moody, and Dean Eleanor S. Ross were unveiled and placed on display. The reunion barbecue and the President's reception highlighted the week-end.

Music for DANCING FEET

Shortly after classes began in the fall, Middlebury's social life began in earnest. Almost every Saturday night from Homecoming week-end till June the numerous organizations on campus sponsored the popular gym dances at the high school or McCullough. Couples danced to records or the music of the incomparable Black Panthers.

Especially memorable were the Forum-sponsored souvenir dance, the Frosh Hop which followed the U.V.M. game, and the annual Mountain Club square dance. And then there was Carnival and the long-awaited Klondike Rush. In the more sophisticated manner were the Sailing Club Formal, the Sophomore Stardust and the unforgettable Carnival Ball. Supplementing all these were those dances held in the fraternity houses, at the Inn, Gifford Library and the homey atmosphere of Dog Team.

With Mim Wade and Roy Kinsey deftly managing the festivities as co-chairmen of Midd's sixteenth annual Winter Carnival, this all important week-end hit a new high despite the noticeable paucity of snow. After the Blue Shirts' victorious hockey game against U.V.M., Polly Hodder and Art Pepin took the sceptre in hand at the Coronation Ice Show and thenceforth reigned over the events which commenced with the laugh-provoking show, "George

Raymond Scott and his orchestra presided over the formal Ball in sentimental style, and the lively assortment of tunes provided by the Black Panthers at the Klondike Ski Bowl informal dance caught up the whole spirit of Carnival in a sparkling finale.

CULTURE

"Did You Mean to Say?"

The responsibility for world harmony, the general theme of the 1947 Culture Conference, was the topic around which three panels of discussion revolved. On Saturday morning, March 8, President Stratton delivered an opening address which was followed by the keynote speech of Dr. David L. Thomson of McGill University. Dr. Thomson served as moderator for all of the sessions. Edgar A. Mowrer, syndicated columnist and an expert on international affairs, and Charles W. Lightbody, historian, writer, and lecturer, each presented prepared talks. After these had been delivered, the audience and panel members participated in a debate of the issues brought forth in the speeches.

The second of the round table discussions began on Saturday afternoon with speeches by Leon Gay, the treasurer of Gay Brothers Company in Cavendish, Vermont; W. I. Newstetter, dean of the School of Applied Social Science at the University of Pittsburgh; and G. Holmes Perkins, a member of the faculty of Harvard College, and an expert on regional planning and housing. An informal reception was held in Forest Hall on Saturday evening. To this gathering students were invited to meet and ask questions of the speakers.

Preceded by a dinner in Forest Hall for all of the participants, the concluding panel met on Sunday afternoon and heard talks by Dr. Robert R. Brooks, dean of Williams College and an expert in the field of labor relations; and William Muehl, youngest member of the faculty at the Yale Divinity School.

An outstanding feature of the entire conference was the maintenance of the discussion on a plane of the practical, for as it has so often been stressed, it is of far greater importance in the light of present day affairs to consider the "how" rather than the "why" of world harmony.

So it is that an afternoon planned for intense academic pursuits can degenerate into a quick dash downtown for a sundae at Rexall's, relaxing to music in the rec room, or a terrific bull session on life in general. None of us can remember a day when we've had nothing to do, but all of us can remember days when we've done nothing.

PRESIDENT STRATTON

Dr. Samuel S. Stratton became the eleventh president of Middlebury College on January 1, 1943, and since then has successfully guided the College through the difficult war and postwar period. He received his A.B. degree at Dartmouth College and was awarded his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees at Harvard University. Later he was a member of the Harvard faculty as Associate Professor of Economics in the Graduate School of Business Administration. During the war, on leave of absence from Harvard, Dr. Stratton served as Director of the Priorities Review Division of the War Production Board and later, on the New England Regional War Labor Board. Among the books of which he is co-author are: "Problems in Corporation Finance," "Economics of the Iron and Steel Industry," "Financial Instruments and Institutions," and "Price Research in the Steel and Petroleum Industry."

The Class of '48, the most heterogeneous assortment of people in Midd's lengthy career. Ours is a unique distinction. We come from the graduating classes of so many high schools, of so many years. Some of us have spent three successive years here, some of us have been unable to, some of us have attended one, two or half a dozen colleges before coming to Midd.

Yet we are the Class of '48. Our memories of our years here will vary almost unbelievably in detail, but the pattern will always remain the same. Newness and unfamiliarity, the process of becoming adjusted, of becoming a part of Midd, of learning her traditions, popular and unpopular, this was freshman year. The conviction that you did belong, the vague stirrings of a sensation of superiority, this was sophomore year. The realization that you are an upperclassman, the satisfaction derived from additional privileges, the increased amount of work, this is junior year.

A few of us remember the civilian exodus from the hill, the coming of the navy, and acceleration. More of us remember a class dance that was plantation-like in theme, stepsinging won by the freshman class, and the embarkation of the navy. Even more of us remember the get-acquainted coffee, the Mardi Gras, and the re-establishment of a large men's college. We all remember the return to a sort of normality with the strange balance between the two colleges, the resumption of pre-war social, athletic, and extra-curricular life.

All this we are trying to recall . . . .

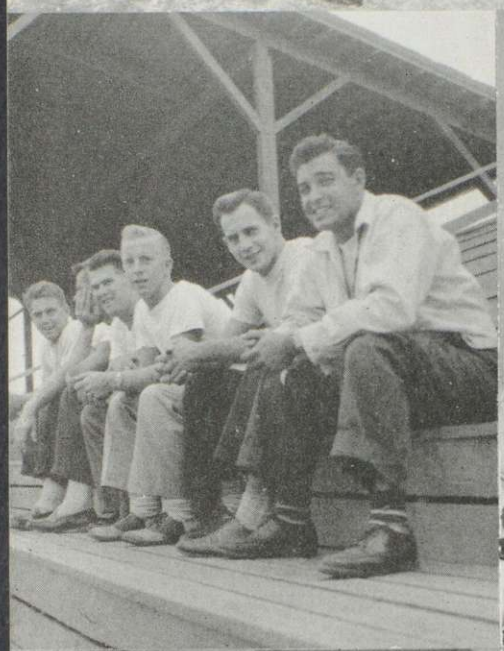
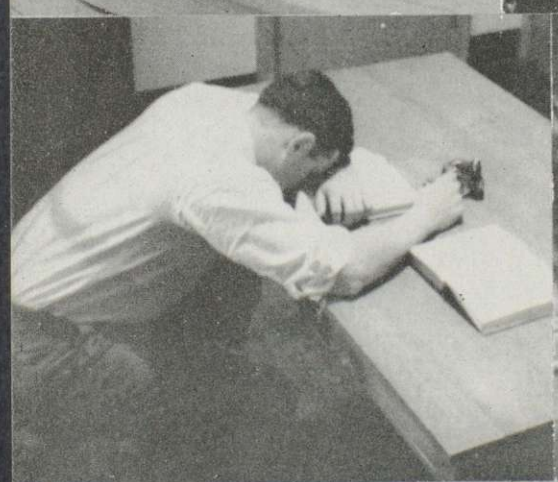
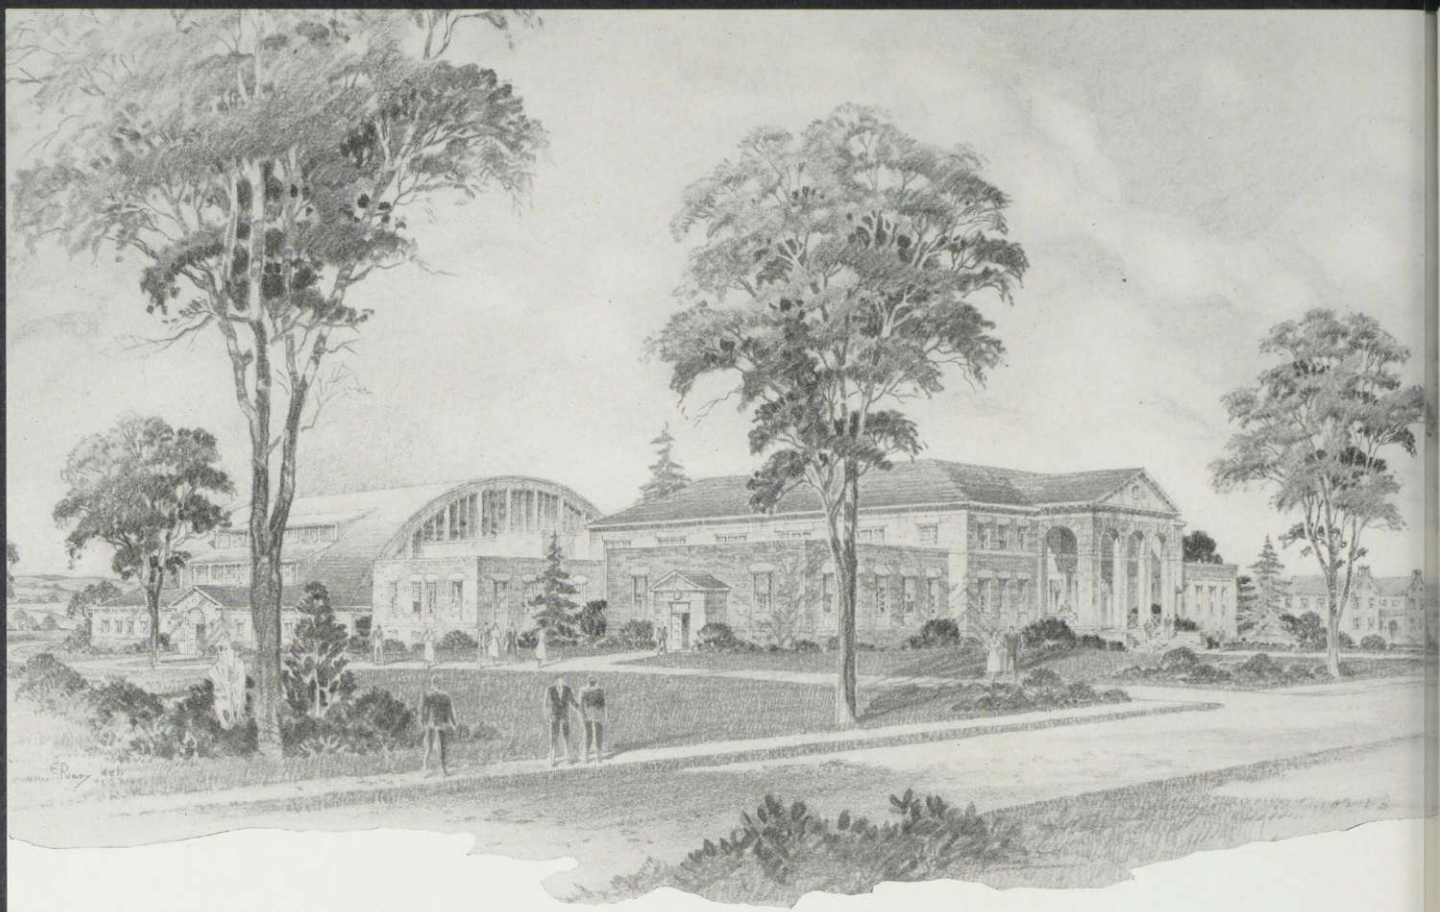
THE VETS





AND THEIRS



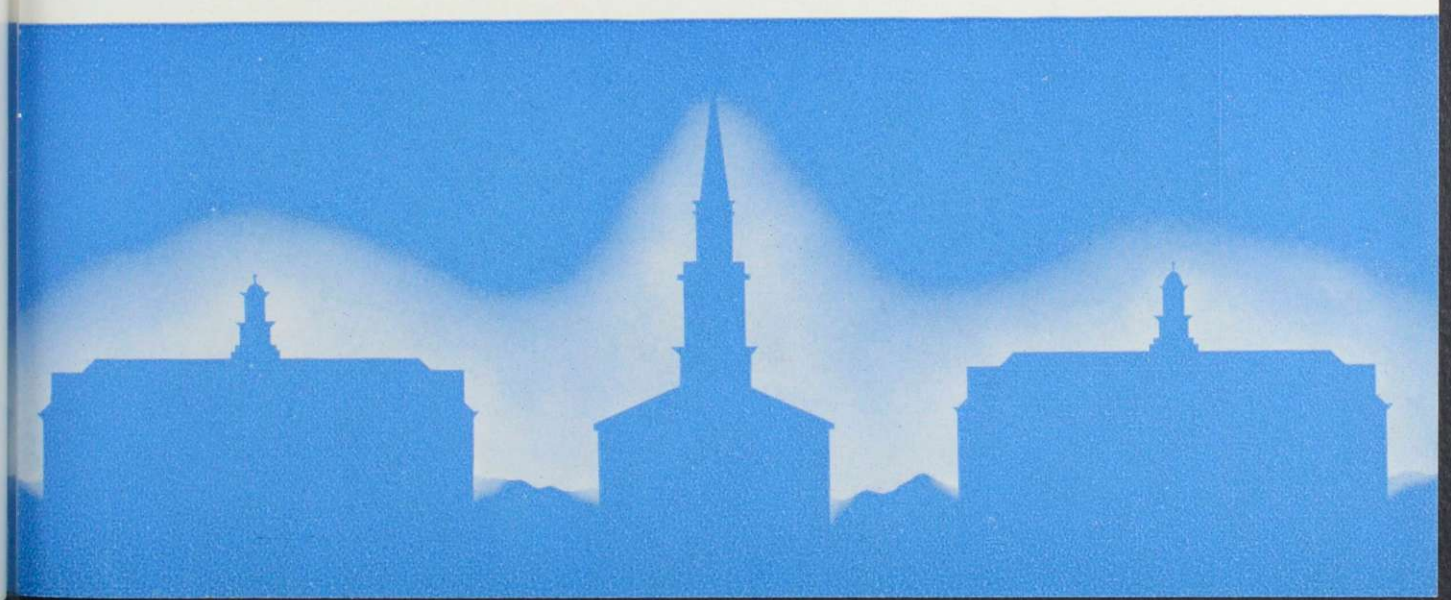
Homecoming Day had a dual significance for Middlebury College this year, for it marked not only the welcoming of alumni, but also the opening of the Memorial Fund Drive to raise $700,000 for the erection of a fieldhouse to commemorate the fifty-seven Middlebury men who lost their lives in World War II. Designed by specialists in college architecture to complement the buildings already on campus, the fieldhouse will be located between Sigma Phi Epsilon and Porter Field. Part of the money collected will be set aside as a maintenance endowment for the building.

As the campaign began, a new addition was made to the familiar sights on the Middlebury campus. It was a towering replica of Gamaliel Painter's cane, its purpose being to serve as a barometer of the progress toward the $700,000 goal. We watched with interest the blue of the cane become gradually obscured by the white mercury, an indicator which evidenced the support the drive was receiving from Middlebury students and graduates.

The drive, spearheaded by Campaign Director Edgar J. Wiley '13, was so carefully planned and executed that every Middlebury student and graduate was individually canvassed. State and area chairmen were in charge of volunteer workers who visited alumni and potential donors. A committee of twenty-five students under the direction of Frederick D. Williams '47, Sidney A. Patchett '47, and Nancy Fitz '47, co-chairmen, led the drive on campus.

Thanks to the untiring efforts of the faculty, alumni, and student Memorial Fund Drive committee members, Middlebury will soon boast a fieldhouse which will provide improved athletic facilities for future Middlebury students.

GOVERNING BODIES



MEN'S ASSEMBLY

Men's Assembly, the core of the Men's Undergraduate Association, plays a very active part in the life of the college. Its purpose as the central body of the Association is to preserve and regulate the traditions of Middlebury; to encourage and stimulate participation in student activities; to provide a suitable medium for the expression of student opinion; and to make sure that all organizations on the men's campus will be under the direct control of the undergraduate men, subject to the provisions of the constitution and the regulation of the college.

The Men's Assembly affords an important part of the training in citizenship provided by student self-government. It handles all college matters which are not under the administration's jurisdiction and acts as a liaison between the administration and the members of the undergraduate body.

This year the Men's Assembly has agreed to meet at least twice a semester with the Women's Assembly to discuss affairs pertaining to both colleges, thus insuring closer co-operation between the two organizations.

WOMEN'S ASSEMBLY

Second row—S. Carr, S. Cooke, G. Greenley

Women's Assembly, composed of one-tenth of the Women's College, is the governing body of Student Union. Representatives are apportioned by dormitories according to the number of women from each class living in each house. Meetings are held once a month, and house presidents report the results of discussions at house meetings. Thus the governing body and the students are drawn closer together.

Among the amendments added to the constitution this year was the lengthening of the term for house president from one term to two. Alice Ashley represented the Women's Assembly at the first convention of the National Student Organization in Chicago. The purpose of this organization is to unite student opinion on student problems. Women's Assembly was host this spring to the annual Regional Convention of Women's Student Governments, an organization which promotes understanding between the colleges and aids in solving various problems.

The officers for 1946-47 were Virginia Hodder, president; Sue Cooke, vice-president; Alice Neef, chief justice; Gloria Greenley, secretary; and Sue Carr, treasurer.

STUDENT LIFE

S. Cooke, Dean Lee, P. Hodder; R. Kinsey, Dean Woodward, F. Williams
Missing—President Stratton

The extra-curricular activities which are so much a part of the life of every Middlebury student owe much of their existence to Student Life, a group composed of representatives from both the administration and the student body which coordinates and regulates the activities of student organizations. The Committee has created a Calendar Committee, consisting of the social directors of the two colleges, with the heads of the student bodies as members ex-officio, which takes care of and correlates the social events for the year.

The members include the President of the College, the Dean of Women, the Dean of Men, the Social Directors of the Men's and Women's Colleges, the President of Men's Undergraduate Association, the Speaker of Men's Assembly, the President of Student Union, and a representative from Student Union.

The Committee exercises its prime responsibility by approving, at informal meetings, submitted charters and constitutions of new organizations and plans for pending social functions. This year, however, the group was relieved of its duty of approving the applications of special social events after the social calendar has been accepted for the year; these applications now go directly to the deans. Acting also in an advisory capacity, Student Life alters any conflicts that may arise in the social calendar, discusses various problems pertaining to the Men's and Women's Colleges, and considers suggestions and criticisms from the student body. In addition, Student Life is trying to space and distribute social functions as well as to organize the social calendar in order to provide something for everyone to do on Saturday nights.

This year the Men's and Women's Assemblies, acting under the suggestion of the Student Life Committee, have reviewed the constitutions of all organizations and placed them in the office of the Dean of Men.

SKYLINE

Skyline, the legislative body of the Mountain Club, consists of twelve members of each of the upper three classes. Each fall freshmen and transfers may try out for Skyline membership. The tryout period lasts until spring when a written examination is given. Examination material is given in a series of lectures covering the fundamentals of First Aid, hiking, club organization, and the terrain of local mountains to which the club sponsors hikes. All of the tryouts work on the trails, and the women tryouts make sandwiches for the Sunday hikes. After the test, twenty tryouts are chosen to be members of Temporary Skyline for the next year on the basis of the test results and the performance of their duties. The following winter twelve of these members are elected to Permanent Skyline, again on the basis of their interest and work. From this body are chosen each year the Carnival Co-chairmen and the Governing Board which directs the Mountain Club policies. The president for 1946-1947 was Ray Sacher.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL

The Athletic Council is the organization which determines the general athletic policy of the Men's College. It is composed of the Director of Athletics, five faculty members, varsity sport captains, the President of the Undergraduate Association, and one member of the alumni. Managers of the various sports may attend the monthly meetings of the Council, but have no vote. Professor Reginald L. Cook has been president of the Council for the past year, and the position of director of athletics has been filled, ably as usual, by Professor Arthur M. Brown.

The Council has jurisdiction over all intercollegiate, intramural, and interclass sports, and its primary objective is the promotion, as well as the regulation, of all these competitive athletic activities.

The Athletic Council pursues its objectives by the exercise of certain functions and duties which include, among other powers, the approval of the election of the captains and managers of college sports, the formulation of rules governing intramural activities, and the awarding of insignia to eligible students for participation in college sports.

The W.A.A. Council is the governing board for the Women's Athletic Association. At its meetings, which are held on an average of three times a month, the members formulate plans and policies for W.A.A.; they elect managers of sports and arrange for special activities such as dances, bridge parties and the Playdays with U.V.M.

From the two hundred or more members of W.A.A. the Council is chosen each spring. The officers of the organization automatically become members of the Council. This year Laura-Lee Hopkins was elected president and, as such, called and presided over the meetings. Patricia Salmon, as vice-president, was in charge of the point system and with the treasurer, Muriel Mack, sponsored the membership drive. Patricia Perkins was elected secretary, and Jean Gunther was chosen head of the W.A.A. Cabin. Miss Rosevear again acted as advisor to the Council.

Among the projects for the 1947 season was a posture contest to be held in the spring. A square dance was also planned for the spring season.

The Inter-Fraternity Council, which serves to correlate and insure maximum co-operation among the fraternities, has devoted most of its activities in the past year to the problems of rushing and co-operative food buying.

This year the Council developed a new plan of rushing which will be continued next year. The plan, an "open" policy eliminating the formality and restrictions of a silence period, was designed to encourage and stimulate the freshman-fraternity acquaintances.

Last spring the Council recommended and organized a co-operative buying system which has since been turned over to the fraternity managers' control. This will aid those fraternities whose buying power alone could not achieve the necessary level to insure adequate supply.

This year's Council has expressed its desire for strong co-operation which may be evidenced by its action in several individual cases where Council rules were amended or disregarded to provide certain fraternities with the rights necessary to build all the houses on campus up to an average and further promote membership.

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

Pan-Hellenic Council, composed of a junior and a senior representative from each sorority, is the governing board for all sororities represented on the campus. It attempts to advance intersorority relations, to coordinate their activities, and to discuss and solve the various problems of sorority government.

Annually the Council gives a Pan-Hellenic tea, at which a survey of sorority life is presented to all freshmen and transfers. Rushees meet the members of each sorority at open houses and parties held in the sorority rooms. At the close of a previously designated period, each candidate lists her preferences and new members are chosen from the lists.

Each year the Council confers a scholarship on a sophomore woman selected as the most generally outstanding member of her class in regard to scholarship, leadership, and character. It also promotes scholastic achievement by awarding a scholastic cup to the sorority with the highest average.

Pan-Hellenic's projects for this year were a revision of rushing rules and the introduction of intersorority athletic competitions.

KALEIDOSCOPE

The day before classes began in September the staff of the 1948 KALEIDOSCOPE had its first fall meeting. At that time the plans which had been made the preceeding spring for the annual Junior Class publication began to go into effect.

Shirley Syrett, as Editor-in-Chief, was in complete charge of the book, and all members of the staff were accountable to her. The Associate Editor, Correne Wescott, was responsible for all pictures. She worked with the photographers, arranging schedules and carrying them out. Glenna Seely, the Assistant Editor, was responsible for both the written material in the book and the training of the editorial tryouts. The Managing Editor, Sue Cooke, worked with the whole staff, acting as a sort of liaison. Elaine Phillippi, as Business Manager, planned the whole budget so that the KALEIDOSCOPE would pay for itself, and trained the business tryouts who secured contracts for advertising.

The tryouts for the editorial staff deserve the credit for most of the written material in the book. Besides preparing this information, a written test and the preparation of a yearbook dummy were required of them as part of their training.

Due to the increased enrollment in the college this year, a change was made in the junior and senior sections of the book. To avoid as much confusion as possible next year, men and women in term four when the college year began were included in the junior section since they would be juniors when the book came out. The persons in this term who were not pictured were given space for personal writeups because they will not be included in next year's book. Instead of individual writeups for the entire senior class, the staff has included pictures and writeups of those persons in terms six, seven and eight who, due to the war, have never appeared in the yearbook. Term numbers listed are those listed with the deans at the beginning of the year.

The staff thanks all those who, after having expressed a desire to work on the book, were of so much assistance to them in their work.

The Decisions at Wright House

Birth of a "Campus"

CAMPUS

The Middlebury Campus has been edited by a student-trained and operated staff as a weekly publication of the college since 1913. Previous to that year the paper was circulated under the title of The Undergraduate, which was initiated in 1830.

During the past few years, the staff of the Campus has been necessarily limited because of wartime irregularities, but this year more students than ever are taking an active interest in the workings of the paper. Because of increased enthusiasm shown by the large numbers of editorial and business staff tryouts, it has been necessary to initiate some new posts on the staff. The latest additions to Campus positions include those of co-editors, associate business managers, and sports editor.

The aims of the Campus staff are pointed toward accurate coverage of college news, efficient business handling and impartial presentation of student opinion, especially through the new "Free Speech" column. A new addition to the weekly columns is "Moo" Mack's "Belleboard," a take-off on Alan Wolfley's "Billboard." The Campus has lately increased in both size and circulation, and each issue contains a full page of Midd's sports news.

Members of the Campus progress annually up the executive ladder via lectures, exams and elections. Staff writers learn the tricks of fact and feature writing as well as the responsibilities of editing the paper. Freshman editorial tryouts learn about heads, proofs and journalistic style; junior assistant editors write major stories, and, by a system of rotation, take charge of layouts and supervise the printing at Burlington. Business staff activity includes mailing, delivering, collecting and laying out ads.

Senior Board's six salaried positions for 1945-1946 were: Editor-in-Chief, Janet Kraft; Business Manager, Delphine Marden; Managing Editor, Nancy Surtees; Associate Editor, Joanne Buckeridge; Advertising Manager, Evelyn Gardner; and Circulation Manager, Doris Vaughn. Elections were held in December of 1946 to determine the new Senior Board. The retiring members were replaced by Muriel Mack and Margaret Matulis, Co-Editors; Edith Titus, Business Manager; Anne Saurman, Managing Editor; Annaliese Koster, Advertising Manager; and John Rumbold, Sports Editor.

MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE PLAYERS

I. Nierhaus, J. Webster, J. Rogers, president, K. Rapp
Missing—S. Greenley, E. Flaherty

The Middlebury College Players, under the direction of Mr. Volkert, for years have succeeded in maintaining the reputation which they have established as one of the outstanding organizations on campus.

To become a member of the Players a student must accumulate one hundred and fifty points which are earned through work at the Playhouse. Points must be accumulated in two or more types of work, so that the prospective Player will have a wider range of experience.

This year, in particular, the Players have produced a number of excellent dramas, all of which have been "sellouts." In the spring of 1946, Chekhov's "The Cherry Orchard" was presented as the commencement drama, and no sooner had college opened in the fall than work was begun on one of the largest and most difficult productions ever presented at Middlebury, "I Remember Mama," which involved, among other things, two revolving stages, now permanent fixtures at the Playhouse. Carnival time found the Players ready with another hit, the Kaufman and Hart comedy, "George Washington Slept Here." It played to a capacity audience which enjoyed the performance thoroughly and which agreed that it was among the highlights of Carnival week-end.

In addition to the larger productions, of which there are usually two or three a year, the Players present several one-act plays which are produced and directed entirely by the students, either as part of their work in Mr. Volkert's class in acting and directing, or simply as Playhouse productions.

The Players have endorsed a plan whereby the college works with the high school in the dramatic field. Each year at least three one-act plays are presented at the high school. These plays are directed, produced and managed completely by the Players. The plays are cast from the high school students who try out for parts in the productions. One of these plays is chosen to be presented again at a regional contest. In February of this year the three plays produced were "The Leap Year Bride," "Brothers in Arms," and "Jade."

The Players have always composed one of the most popular campus organizations and have provided boundless opportunities for all who wish to do theatrical work of any sort, regardless of talent. The great variety of plays produced each year, tragedies and comedies, modern and period dramas, offers many types of roles from which students may choose. For those who do not care to tread the boards, however, but are more interested in the technical end of play production, the only requisites are a willingness to work and the desire to have a good time. A would-be stagehand has only to present himself at the Playhouse and he will find a variety of interesting work from which to choose, such as lighting, make-up, costumes, properties, set construction, or publicity. From usher to stage manager, everyone has a share in a production, and few fail to feel a thrill of pride when they see the results on "opening night." Students who wish to continue theatrical work after college find Playhouse experience invaluable.

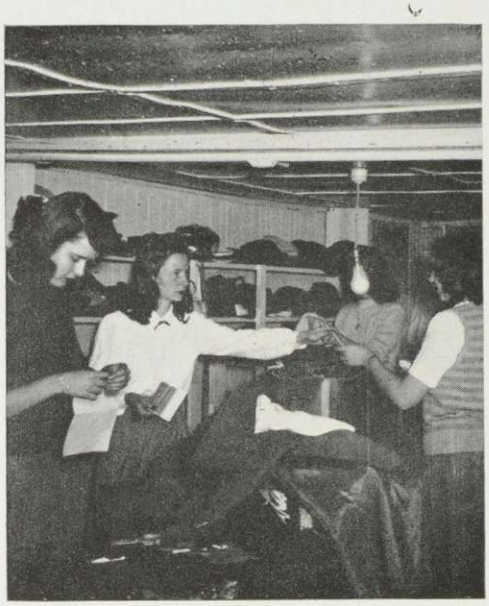
WOMEN'S FORUM



Any Clothes for Thrift Shop?

Social welfare work is an important activity anywhere, and on the Middlebury campus it centers around the Women's Forum. This organization, guided by its president, Edith Gordon, has continued this year to offer its services to the community and the college in numerous ways.

One of the largest groups on the Women's campus, it is called upon to sponsor the important national welfare drives of the Red Cross and Community Fund on behalf of the student body. A new activity this year, replacing previous support to the United Nations Relief and Rebalilitation Association, has been co-operation with the American Friends' Service Committee. Through this agency one of the Forum committees, headed by Mary Gray, has sent monthly boxes overseas to the people of Holland and Finland. The boxes contain food and other articles scarce in these countries.

More extensive social work is carried out closer to home through the management of the Middlebury Community House and the Thrift Shop, and also in the nearby town of Ripton. The Community House, always open to the townspeople, is directed by Mrs. Wiley who is taking Miss Dean's place during her leave of absence. Forum members assist Mrs. Wiley in hostess work and entertainment for the children in the form of stories, games, dancing instruction, and music lessons. The Thursday afternoon Story Hour is a pleasant diversion to both the college girls and the Middlebury children.

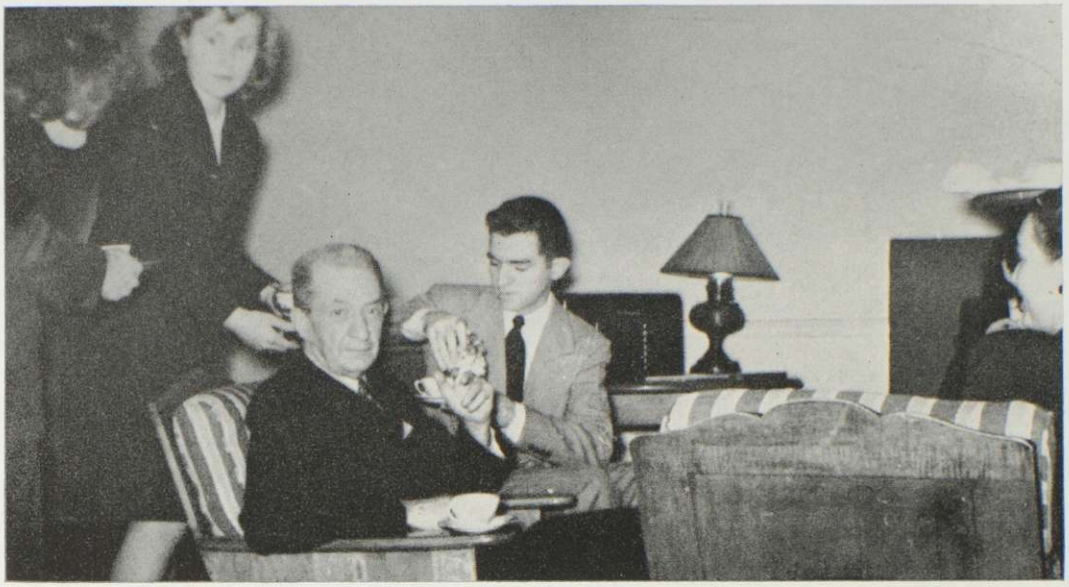
Doris Vaughn holds the important job of directing Thrift Shop activities. Clothes are collected in the college dormitories and are sold very inexpensively in the shop downtown, after being mended and cleaned. The proceeds from this financial and social enterprise help to augment the club's ability to offer assistance to the needy townspeople in providing them with clothing, food, medicine, and other requirements.

A portion of the treasury is used to help support the Town Recreation Fund and to maintain a small boy in the Kurn Hattin Home of New England. Forum members help out at Porter Hospital in assisting and relieving nurses, and manage Girl Scout and Brownie groups. Elizabeth Hornaday, the Social Service chairman, has the job of coordinating and directing this local welfare work.

The children up at Ripton are provided with instruction, after school hours, in arts and crafts. Work is done in the schoolhouse there. Again this year Christmas brought them a large Forum party in the Ripton Town Hall, where a group of girls entertained with songs and a colorful pageant of the Christmas story. The spirit of the holiday was supplied by a decorated tree, gifts for each child, and Mr. French dressed up as Santa Claus.

The Women's Forum is also the sponsor of some exclusive college drives. Calendars and town-maps are sold annually, and this year, under the chairmanship of Jeannette Winans, the club has managed the sale of a college album of records done by the Middlebury Choir.

S. A. A.



Kerensky at Middlebury

The Student Action Assembly, founded a few years ago by a group of Middlebury students interested in political affairs, has proved successful in stimulating student thought and action. Among its activities is the publication of the "Agenda," which expresses student and faculty opinion on important issues. This year it is produced in conjunction with the University of Vermont and Bennington College. Panel discussions are held with student, faculty and outside speakers on current subjects. Radio programs are presented over a Burlington station. This year, in co-operation with the International Relations Club, S.A.A. sponsored the well-known speaker, Alexander Kerensky. An International Relief Committee raised funds for the World Student Service Fund. The Anti-discrimination Committee conducted programs on the Fair Employment Practices Commission.

S.A.A. is a local chapter of the United States Student Assembly and has participated in projects and programs undertaken by the national organization. The Middlebury group was represented at the spring convention.

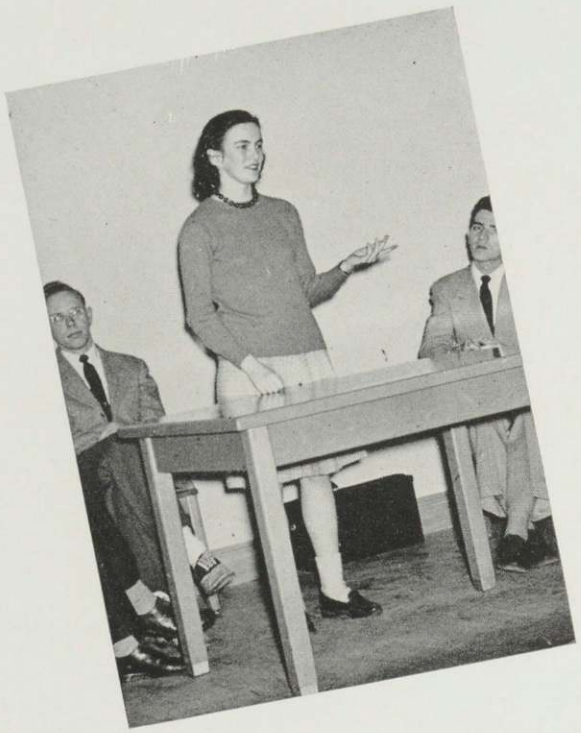
DEBATE



Peg in Debate

Under the direction of Professor Perkins and the management of Margaret Armstrong, the enlarged Middlebury Debate Team meets annually with several of the eastern colleges. Because of separate men's and women's teams, the schedule, which includes the University of Vermont, Dartmouth, and McGill, has been expanded considerably.

With the purpose of developing the ability to properly evaluate and correlate facts, and to present them in cogent and logical arguments, the teams have made great strides in attaining a knowledge of social, political, and economic conditions as a part of the preparation for debate.

Questions of national and international importance, the co-existence of communism and capitalism in a peaceful world, the extension of government controls, and the disposal of Atomic Energy patents, are but a few of the topics that challenge the group. This year, as a new feature, the teams gave a series of radio debates, which emphasized simplicity and clarification of issues of public interest.

INTER-FAITH

By a free exchange of religious ideas and beliefs, members of Inter-Faith seek for spiritual truth that will enable them to find richer meaning for their lives. Topics such as "God and Evolution" constitute the basis of many thoughtful and helpful discussions. Inter-religious understanding is sought through factual presentations of the beliefs and practices of the world's organized religions. Outside speakers are obtained from time to time.

Inter-Faith's program of service has included raising funds for the Piney Wood's School, a negro school in Mississippi, the establishing and teaching of religious classes in Ripton and West Salisbury on weekdays, and the presentation of the Christmas story in pageant form at the Ripton Christmas Party.

The president for 1946 and 1947 was M. Catherine Van Aken. The faculty advisor is Dr. Stephen A. Freeman.

HUMANITIES

Humanities was born out of the general enthusiasm that greeted the first Middlebury Culture Conference in 1943. Many students felt that more time should be spent in profitable discussions of current problems. As a result of this widespread opinion, Humanities was first organized. It is not just a college group but is a community organization as well. Students, professors, and townspeople are all invited to attend its informal panels.

The group is composed of two representatives from each organization on campus. This year its theme has been "Is Modern Man Obsolete?" It stressed man's moral backwardness in contrast to his scientific advancement.

Humanities, advised by Professor Claude Bourcier, also arranges the schedule for club meetings in order to co-ordinate and relate the clubs' programs to each other. The president for 1946 and 1947 was Margaret MacCormick.

Under the leadership of Joan Tyler as president, the Literary Club assembles twice a month to listen to guest speakers, to discuss literature and the art of writing, and to read and criticize poetry and short stories submitted by members of the Club.

The Club is now sponsoring the monthly Abernethy Readings held in the Abernethy Wing of the Library. A committee under the direction of Louise Gerlitz is responsible for selecting the readers and arranging the dates. Guests on the program for 1946-1947 have included Mr. Volkert, Mr. Cook, Dr. Beers and Miss Martin.

Directions, the bi-annual literary magazine of the college containing work done by undergraduates, is produced by a staff composed of members of the faculty of the American Literature and English Departments and students chosen from the Literary Club.

ALCHEMISTS CLUB

Under the capable leadership of Ann Argyle and Prescott Carr, presidents of 1946 and 1947 respectively, the Alchemists Club has gone far in the promotion of its purpose, which is the stimulation of interest in the ever-widening fields of chemistry, and the improvement of the standards of its members as better chemists.

At various meetings throughout the year several outside speakers have been heard discussing developments in the chemical field, and movies have been shown for the benefit of the members and the broadening of their knowledge. The annual show, which was produced by the club's faculty members as well as the students, also helped to make this one of the club's most successful years.

The Alchemists Club is pleased to announce that it is now in the process of becoming a member of the American Chemical Society.

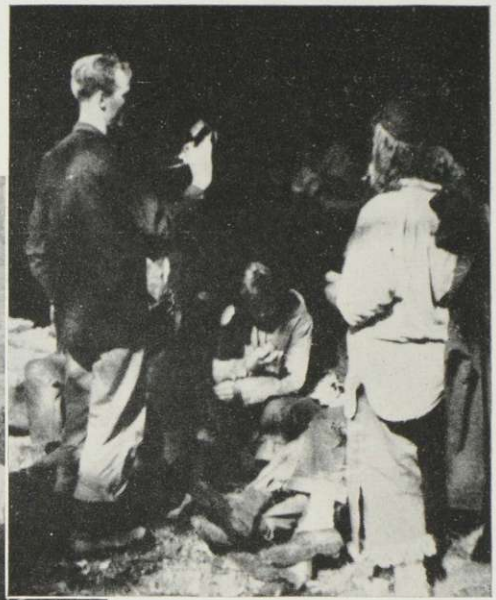
MOUNTAIN CLUB

Where's the Truck?



The Pause That Refreshes

Middlebury's answer to every outdoor enthusiast lies in the ever popular and energetic Mountain Club, headed this year by Ray Sacher. Founded in 1931 to encourage outdoor activities not provided for by the Athletic Council, the Mountain Club is one of the largest and most popular of the extra-curricular organizations at Middlebury and has an active and enthusiastic membership numbering more than half the student body. Much of the social life at Middlebury centers about its hikes and outings. The club utilizes much of Middlebury's 31,000 acre mountain campus in the East Range of the Green Mountains.

Freshmen are invited to membership by literature sent to their homes, and early introduced in a delightfully informal "get-together" known as the Freshman Outing. There they participate in games, singing, supper, and a scavenger hunt.

Highlighting autumn were hikes to Silent Cliff, Mount Pico, and Lake Pleiad. Sunday mornings found Mountain Club trucks behind Battell Cottage waiting for the hikers to assemble. Once the hikers were in the mountains they were led in the climbing by the blue-shirted members of Skyline. Moving indoors, the club held an informal dance this year in the McCullough Gymnasium.

With the first snowfall Mountain Club made possible almost daily trips to Bread-loaf for the ski enthusiasts. As a result of the improved area on this mountain, Middle-bury's skiing facilities were unequaled and unsurpassed by any other eastern college. The Breadloaf facilities included two new tows, novice slopes as well as slopes which offered opportunities for more advanced skiers. In addition to the daily trips, weekend outings were made to surrounding mountains.

The climax of the skiing season was Winter Carnival, run and sponsored by the Mountain Club. The long weekend from Thursday until Sunday was under the co-chairmanship of Miriam Wade and Roy Kinsey. It included the return of the coronation as a feature of the ice show, a play, Coronation Ball with music by Raymond Scott, Klondike Rush, hockey game, three days of four event intercollegiate skiing and spectacular jumping. Added attractions were snow sculptures, ski movies and Sunday brunch.

The tapping of the maple trees, an old New England custom, opened the spring season for the Mountain Club as well as for the Vermont farmers.

The Middlebury Mountain Club, which has always been a member of the Inter-Collegiate Outing Club Association, played host this spring to the annual IOCA Conference at which over thirty colleges were represented.

This year the College Choir of ninety men and women, selected from the sophomore, junior and senior classes, was the largest it has ever been. The choir was divided into two groups, each to sing on alternate chapel days, but during the second semester the choirs combined and appeared each Sunday as a single group.

Under the direction of Mr. Bedford, a group from the choir recorded some of the favorite college songs; the inspiring "Benediction" was one of the numbers included.

In addition to their regular Sunday appearances the choir presented the annual Christmas and Easter programs, the latter two being given with the Freshman Choir. In May the presentation of the Bach B Minor Mass with four guest soloists won added and well-deserved applause.

Under the able direction of Mr. Bedford, a group of mixed voices, the Freshman Choir, meets every Friday night to rehearse for chapel programs. The group is composed of all those not in the College Choir who are interested in singing.

Its first appearance was at the annual Christmas service in Mead Memorial Chapel. At that time the choir's presentation of Christmas music met with such approval that they were asked to participate in the Easter program.

The Women's Chorus, organized in 1919, merged with the Men's Glee Club in 1939 and from that group the first College Choir was selected. Since 1939 the group remaining each year has been known as the Freshman Choir; its main purpose is to prepare for selection by the College Choir.

BAND

Reorganized this year by manager Robert W. Kellogg, the prewar manager, the Middlebury band, first organized in 1910, was again active on the campus. Although small in number, the band, under the capable direction and supervision of Mr. Alan Carter and Mr. George Low, had a most successful year; its popularity was marked by its reception at gym rallies and football games.

In dress uniform of cap and cape, the new band made its debut during the Alumni Homecoming week-end. Philip Hull, the drum-major, led the band through its practice marches out on the Women's Athletic Field. They practiced in the rainy Vermont fall, but their reward was the great approval with which they were received at the University of Vermont-Middlebury game.

PANTHERS

Under the leadership of "Foo" Mathews the Black Panthers have been "the talk of the town." Starting in the fall with thirteen pieces, the band was cut down when "Nemo" Clark and "Foo" left to study arrangement.

"Ceece" Steen and Bob Seixas, business managers, boastful of the "Panthers'" success, proudly point to the new jackets, public address system and bookings. They held engagements for the Saturday night gym dances, the Dartmouth Green-Key Week-end, and a return to Dartmouth for the Winter Carnival.

In part, the success is credited to the "five-sax" section. The two tenor and alto saxophones have been augmented by a baritone "sax" for the first time. Also for the first time, the Panthers have a male vocalist, baritone Dick Buonerba.

TONE

Missing—J. Hutchinson

Tone is an organization which endeavors to stimulate an interest and participation in music by students. A series of informal and enjoyable meetings were planned under the guidance of Mr. Alan Carter and presided over by Eleuftheria Constant.

Tone presented programs which included all types of music. An all-Gershwin program and a program of modern French music were two of the year's highlights. Both classical and modern music, including jazz, were sometimes planned for the same program. Many records were chosen by popular request.

Tone's special projects included the presentation of several daily chapel programs during the year and the sponsoring of all concerts given by the college orchestra. Tone also worked in conjunction with Humanities and aided other clubs with their musical performances.

Under the able direction of its conductor, Mr. Alan Carter, the college orchestra, composed of students who enjoy and have an active interest in good music, studies symphonic works in preparation for programs during the year. Among this year's performances were an exchange concert with Radcliffe College and a program at Middlebury featuring Margaret Armstrong as soloist.

An addition to this organization is the Chamber Music Group. Besides presenting programs of chamber music in the Music Studio, it furnished the musical setting for the Faculty Frolic.

Closely connected with the Little Symphony is the Vermont State Symphony Orchestra, which meets regularly for rehearsals on Sunday afternoons in the college gymnasium. This year seven Middlebury students participated in the concerts given throughout the state.

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Club, open to advanced Spanish students, was organized in order to promote a better understanding of the Spanish speaking nations and thus to provide a broader interest in the language.

Meeting once a month, its programs are varied, sometimes arranged and presented by the members themselves and other times by outside guests who are invited to participate. This season Dean Woodward gave an informal talk on the impressions she gathered from a recent trip through the Central American countries. Her discussion proved extremely interesting.

The group held a Christmas party before the holidays and is now planning a Spanish Fiesta program to be given sometime in the spring. The year's activities will be culminated by a picnic at Breadloaf. Miss Martin is the club advisor.

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club was organized to bring the flavor of the French language and culture to those students interested in France and taking advanced French courses.

Monthly meetings, conducted entirely in French, are under the supervision of the faculty of the French Department. Numerous worthwhile programs have been enjoyed by its members, among them an "Information Please," a French movie, a French play, and, as the highlight of the year, the French Club Ball, held in the Grand Salon of the Château.

The club also sponsored an exhibit of famous French paintings of the sixteenth through the nineteenth centuries, and continued its practice of conducting an annual clothing drive to aid the needy people of France.

Mary Stevens was president for the year 1946-1947; David Rowell, vice-president; and Selma Weiss, secretary-treasurer.

GERMAN CLUB

Since the reorganization of the German Club and the formation of a new constitution in the spring of 1945, regular meetings have been held in Forest Rec. All students of German are eligible to join the club proper for the beneficial experience it affords in comprehension and conversation, whether they are beginning or advanced students. "Die Kleine Gruppe" is an organization within the club exclusively for those taking advanced courses in German.

Under the direction of Fraulein Wunderlich, the club members have engaged in many varied activities. German songs and dances have been learned by the club which now numbers more than forty members. The group has been introduced to German folk life and customs through movies and discussions.

RUSSIAN CLUB

The Russian Club has grown in membership almost three-fold since its founding in the spring of 1945, when Student Life approved its charter. The activities of the club, under the enthusiastic direction of Dr. Mischa Fayer of the Russian Department, were planned to acquaint the members with the customs and culture of Russian life, and to promote and further friendly relations with the U.S.S.R. Membership is open to all Russian students, whether elementary or advanced. Although Russian is not spoken exclusively, enough of it is spoken to afford the members worthwhile practice in conversation.

The club celebrated the Christmas season by singing Christmas carols in Russian and conducting a treasure hunt using Russian terms. Members of the club also contributed songs and dances for student entertainment in the "Faculty Frolic" which was held in January.

FLYING CLUB

The main purpose of the Flying Club has been to provide a more inexpensive means of flying for students. The organization, begun in 1945 by Bob Rowley and Dan Hedden, has doubled its membership and the number of available airports in the past year. Use of the Middlebury airport has supplemented that of Rock's at Bristol. Skis were used this winter to enable the fliers to spend more time in the air.

An Intercollegiate Flying Meet was held last spring at Northampton, Massachusetts, with Smith and several other New England colleges. The Flying Club hopes to act as host this year to the second postwar meet.

This year Professor Wissler, the club advisor, displayed true interest in the activities of the organization by obtaining his flier's license.

STAR GAZERS

Star Gazers is one of the newly chartered organizations on campus. Students who have an interest in the wonders of the sky have had an opportunity to share their appreciation and widen their knowledge at the club meetings. Both faculty and students alike have greeted the Star Gazers with a great deal of enthusiasm, as the large number of club members will testify.

A newly equipped observatory and a new telescope in front of Warner Science Building has aided members in fulfilling the purpose of the club, which is to gain a more extensive knowledge of the stars.

The club has enjoyed various social activities throughout the year and has heard several talks by outside speakers as well as by Professor Wissler, the faculty advisor.

SAILING CLUB

A suitable place to carry on the activities of the very popular Sailing Club was hard to find, but through the co-operation of Mr. Chase, owner of the École Champlain, the club was extended the privilege of using the camp boats. During the fall and spring classes were held in sailing and racing tactics.

Club activities were many, and the ninety members showed much enthusiasm in making the club a success. Selected crews were sent to the spring and fall regattas, and a formal was held. This year sailing was recognized by the Athletic Council as a minor sport.

COACHES

The staff of coaches in the athletic department is headed by Professor Arthur M. Brown, who not only is the Director of Athletics, but also the coach of the track, cross-country and relay teams. In addition to these duties he handles the financial matters of the department.

"Duke" Nelson, who returned to Middlebury in May 1946 to become the Assistant Director of Athletics, is the coach of the varsity football, hockey and golf teams. He is aided in football by the assistant coach, Richard S. Ciccolella, who also directs the varsity basketball and baseball. Professor Guarnaccia and Mr. Chalmers directed junior varsity football in 1946.

Mr. John "Red" Kelly, instructor of physical education, has charge of intramural sports.

Robert "Bobo" Sheehan now coaches the ski team with which he once skied. At the Snow Bowl on Breadloaf, "Joe" Jones gives skiing lessons and coaches the women's team.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Middlebury's cross-country team, directed by Coach Brown, had its first meet with Amherst, and lost 22-35. In the second meet, with Bates, Middlebury had a perfect score, capturing the first seven places, and followed up this triumph with victories over Wesleyan, 31-26; Union, 29-26; concluding with a 41-18 victory over University of Vermont, giving Middlebury the state cross-country crown.

Outstanding was James Newman who finished first in all five meets, and broke the Wesleyan and Middlebury course records.

FOOTBALL

Holding the Catamounts

Walter "Duke" Nelson, Middlebury 1932, came back to his alma mater in 1946 as coach of football. From the Men's College, which had a record enrollment of over six hundred, he built up a team which, though young and inexperienced, ended the season as football champions of the state of Vermont.

Under Nelson's tutelage, the team improved with each succeeding game. The season opened against Williams, at Williamstown, where the Panthers were defeated 12-6. Following this was the Homecoming game, when Trinity defeated Middlebury 28-7. Middlebury lost the next two games to Wesleyan and St. Lawrence by scores of 26-0 and 20-13 respectively.

The Panthers, captained by Arthur Pepin, at last began to "click." Norwich was the first opponent to go down in defeat. The score was 12-0. The next week Union was defeated by the Middlebury team by a score of 18-13. The climax of the season came with the thrilling game against Middlebury's traditional rival, the University of Vermont, which ended in a 12-12 tie.

JV FOOTBALL

Over forty candidates, some with previous prep or high school experience, but most of them green and untested, reported to Coaches Sam Guarnaccia and John Chalmers for junior varsity football practice. This squad was faced with a five-game schedule, and after losing its first three games, it came through with the Vermont JV Football Championship.

The season opened against the Williams College Freshmen, at Williamstown, where Middlebury lost 19-0. In the second game at St. Michael's, the Junior Panthers faced a varsity team and held them to a 0-0 tie. A bigger and heavier Kimball Union Academy team gave Middlebury its third defeat, by a score of 32-6.

The last two games were victories for the JV team. The Norwich JV's were defeated 13-0, and the season ended with a decisive 19-0 victory over the University of Vermont JV's.

HOCKEY

The Middlebury hockey team, coached by "Duke" Nelson and captained by Kyle Prescott, had a very successful season, having won seven, tied one, and lost only two games. Of these two losses, one was to a more practiced team, Hamilton, by the score of 2-8. The other loss was to Norwich, 4-5, and was vindicated later the same week when Norwich went down in an easy 9-5 defeat. St. Michael's and Champlain were each defeated twice by the Panthers; St. Mike's by 5-2 and 8-2, and Champlain 9-2 and 7-1. Williams lost a close game, 4-3, and U.V.M. tied one at 3-3, and lost one 10-1.

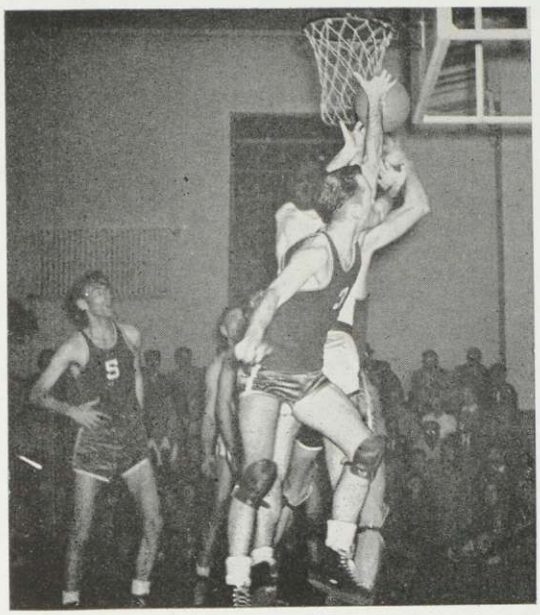
BASKETBALL



Under the Basket

The 1947 basketball team profited, as did other athletic teams of Middlebury College, by the return of the veterans to the campus. From over sixty tryouts at the beginning of the season, Coach Ciccolella was able to organize a first-rate varsity squad. The team encountered stiff opposition on the court, playing a schedule against teams rumored to be very fast. However, the boys played good basketball, and at the halfway mark in the season, had won two games, beating McGill and St. Michael's, and lost four, to R.P.I., Williams, Clarkson, and St. Lawrence. Herb Broner and Dick Blue were chosen as co-assistant managers of the Midd team.

An active JV team was organized, showing great promise, though they had only played three games when the KALEIDOSCOPE went to press.

An energetic intramural basketball round robin was under way with the traditional competition between the fraternities making these games some of the most exciting at Middlebury. The tall Chi Psi team had an edge over the others in the first game, but the outcome of a league of this sort is never sure until the end.

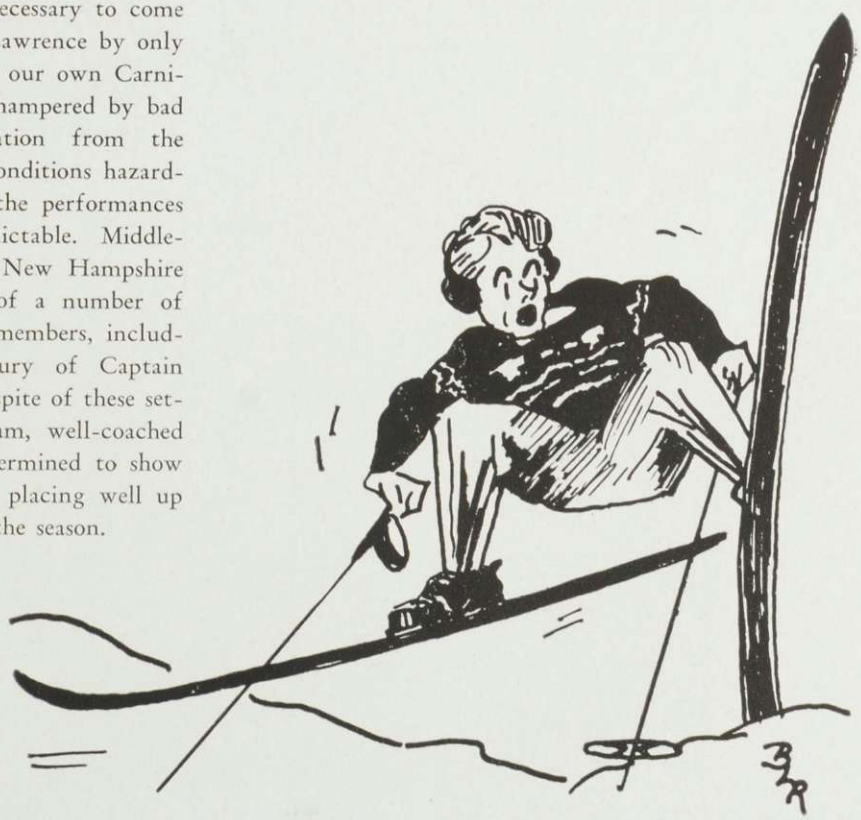
of being one of the most powerful squads in the East. In their first meet, the Sno-Bird meet at Lake Placid, the Middmen had everything but the luck necessary to come out on top, losing to St. Lawrence by only six-tenths of a point. At our own Carnival, the skiers again were hampered by bad luck. Lack of co-operation from the weatherman made skiing conditions hazardous, and because of this, the performances of the skiers were unpredictable. Middlebury placed third behind New Hampshire and Dartmouth in spite of a number of mishaps suffered by team members, including the pre-Carnival injury of Captain Harry Fife. However, in spite of these setbacks, this experienced team, well-coached by "Bobo" Sheehan, is determined to show its four-event strength by placing well up in the remaining meets of the season.



SKI PATROL

A new addition this year to the many organizations on the Midd campus was the Ski Patrol, which proved highly successful during the winter months. With the prevention of accidents as its prime objective, the Ski Patrol urges ski courtesy and helps insure safety by zoning and marking the dangerous areas of the slope, filling in sitz marks, and generally supervising the ski areas. The care and evacuation of ski casualties is the second way in which the Patrol serves.

Credit for the Patrol's formation and development falls to Robert Reed, its leader, to Joseph Jones, who worked with Mr. Reed, and to Coach John Kelly who gave the First Aid instruction. The idea of a ski patrol was suggested last year by some literature sent by Mr. Harold M. Gore, director of the National Ski Patrol, Eastern division. No tangible advances were made on the idea until this year when Mr. Reed and Mr. Jones decided to form a ski patrol with a First Aid Committee for Carnival in mind.

To the Rescue

Thirty hours of First Aid with emphasis on ski accidents, ski equipment and clothing, a knowledge of splints, bandages and instruction in the handling of toboggans and their accessories were decided upon as the necessary training for tryouts. Mr. French, in charge of the finance and management of college skiing, realized the necessity of such a patrol in view of the greatly increased participation in skiing at Middlebury and volunteered his guidance. With this authorization and with the equipment promised by Mr. French, the Ski Patrol was able to get under way.

Throughout the ski events during Carnival weekend the Ski Patrol did a noteworthy job on the Breadloaf trails, attempting to control and evacuate the accidents that could so easily occur. The patrol, which is to be carried on from year to year, maintaining a constant number of members, now consists of forty persons.

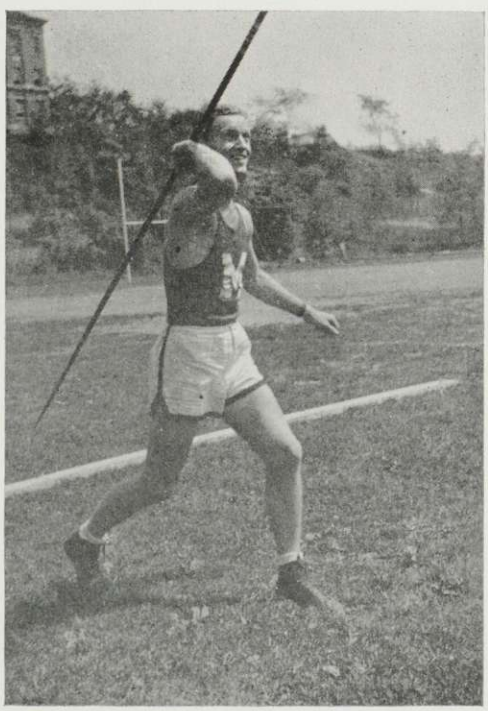
TRACK



"Ready, Bob?"

Although handicapped by a shortage of material, Coach Arthur M. Brown succeeded in turning out an extremely well-rounded and evenly-balanced outdoor track squad in the spring of 1946. The season was characterized throughout by hard work and driving spirit on the part of the members of the entire squad.

The schedule of track meets was necessarily brief, inasmuch as 1946 was the first postwar track season. The initial contest in which the squad participated was the annual meet of the Eastern Intercollegiate Athletic Association which was held at Worcester. In this meet Rob Willits, Roy Kinsey and Don Gilmore succeeded in scoring for Midd. The squad's next encounter was with Trinity in a very closely contested dual meet here at Middlebury. The meet was decided in favor of Middlebury by the closing event, the broad jump, in which Don Gilmore took first place. Out-manned and out-classed by a superior R.P.I. team, the Midd squad was defeated in its third and final encounter of the all-too-short season.

Because the 1946 track team, which was captained by Hal Parker, was such an evenly-balanced unit, each of its members is deserving of part of the credit for Middlebury's good showing during the season.

GOLF

The varsity golf team for the 1946 season was composed of four men, Roland Boucher, Robert Boucher, Charles Scott, and Alan Wolfley (Scott and Wolfley were both letter winners in prewar days).

Midd's best showing for the season was in the dual match victories over St. Lawrence and Clarkson. The team also placed high in the open tournaments where it met up with some stiff competition. The record was especially outstanding considering the lack of golfing facilities in Middlebury and the fact that practices were made difficult by bad weather previous to the matches.

In spite of the loss of Chuck Scott the prospects for this coming season are very hopeful, and a number of promising men have indicated their interest in the team. Among those attending the first meeting, in addition to last year's standbys, were Ray Nihan, Art Gebhardt, Jim Marchese, Art Pepin, and Don Bates.

"Duke" Nelson, who is a good golfer in his own right, will be in charge of the team, and the schedule which has been arranged includes matches against such teams as Dartmouth, Williams, Yale, and R.P.I. Present snow and the inevitable spring thaw will probably hamper good golfing conditions, but, weather permitting, the team should really shine if it can get in some heavy practice before spring vacation. The early workout will necessitate trips to the Rutland course; however, it is hoped that before too long the college golf course will be in good enough shape to allow practice.

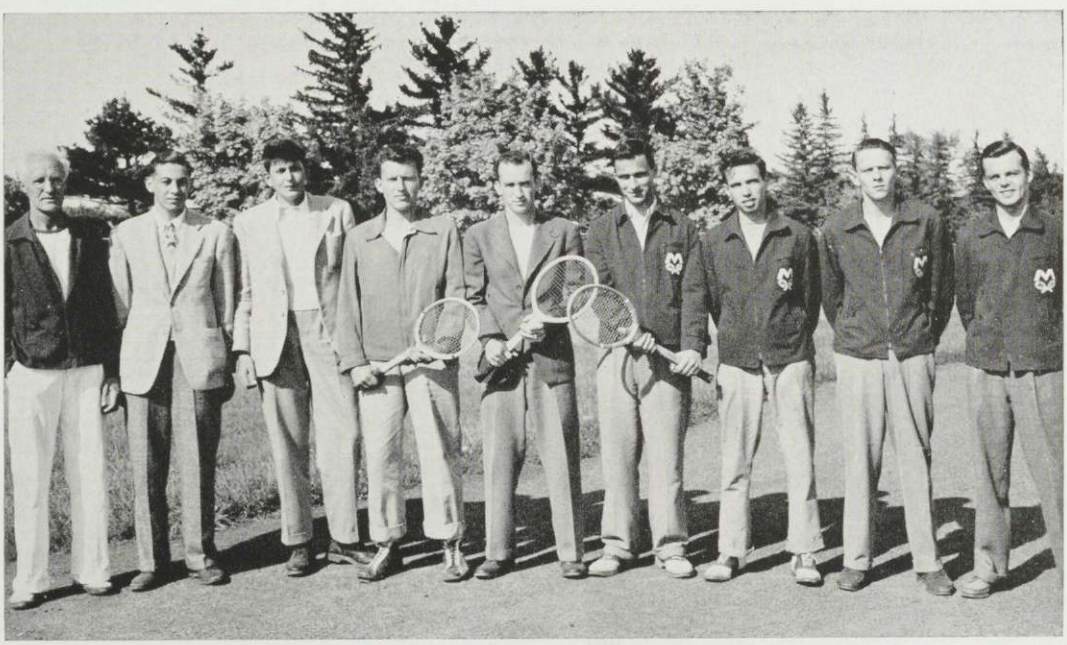
TENNIS

The 1946 tennis squad, under the able tutelage of Coach Cornwall, emerged from its seven highly contested matches with as admirable a record as it has usually been able to point to in seasons past. The racqueteers were re-organized in the spring of 1946 for the first time since the war. Building a new team took a great deal of work and co-operation on the part of the squad and the coach. However, the season's record of five wins and two defeats attests to their success. Incidentally, their record might have been even better if three additional games had not been cancelled due to rain.

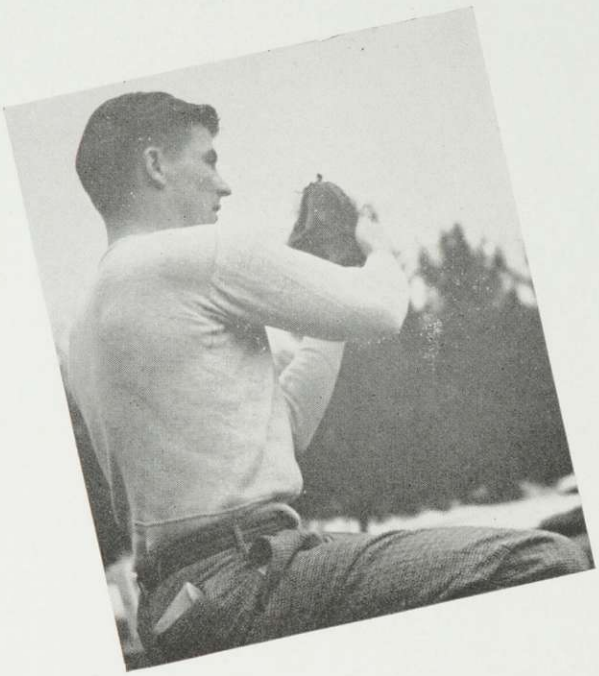
Three former lettermen, Ad Merrick, Al Rice, and Seab Short formed the nucleus about which the team was built. Indispensable also to the team's success were Phil Turnbull, Bob Goell, Gordie Mathews, Ev Miller, Harry Richardson, Felix Rohatyn, and Fred Storfer.

In the season's opener, Midd was trampled by a strong Williams team, 9-0. The outlook brightened considerably when the netmen took the measure of St. Mike's in a home and home series both by scores of 7-2. This was followed up by a 6-3 defeat of U.V.M. on the home courts. The winning streak was snapped at three straight by Clarkson, 6-3. However, the Panthers came up with two smashing victories against St. Lawrence, 6-2, and Vermont, 9-0, to end the season.

As a result of four clean sweeps of U.V.M. and St. Michael's, Midd walked off with the Vermont State Tennis Championship.



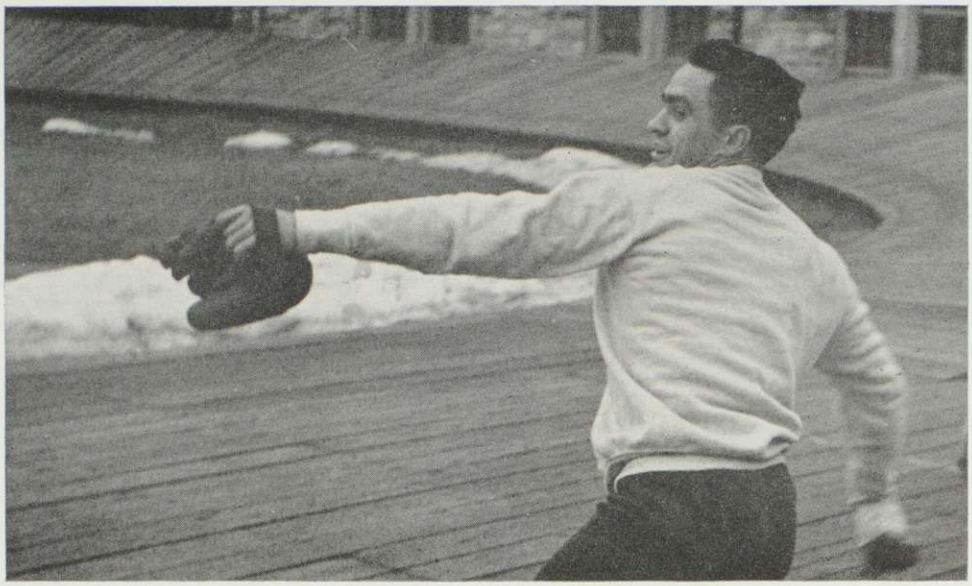
BASEBALL



Captain-elect Cruess

Middlebury's 1946 baseball team, the first postwar nine, won only four of its eleven games. However, by registering three of these triumphs in Vermont state competition, the Midd team succeeded in gaining a tie for the state championship.

Coach "Red" Kelly's squad was handicapped greatly by a lack of talented and experienced ball players. The wintry condition of the playing field during the early weeks of the season and the subsequent late start with which the Panthers began training hindered the early development of the rather "green" squad. However, plenty of hard work and the traditional Midd fighting spirit made up, to some degree, for these deficiencies, and was responsible for bringing about a constant improvement in the team throughout the season. The development of the team was evidenced by the fact that after having been trounced soundly by Norwich and Vermont early in the season, the Midd nine came back to register triumphs in their second encounter with these teams, the victory over Vermont being a well-played 5-0 shutout.



Che Che Winds Up

The nucleus of Midd's 1946 pitching staff was composed of Wiemann, Trimmer, Fife, and Leigh, while Cruess and Valentine alternated behind the plate. First base was adequately covered by LaCroix, while second base was played by the versatile Barquin. The third base and shortstop positions were held down by Barry and Means respectively. The regular outfield berths were filled by Liehr, in left field, Price in center, and Robertson in right.

Captain George Wiemann was by far the outstanding player on the Midd nine during the 1946 season. George, in his role of moundsman, was credited with all of the victories that his team registered. In addition to his 5-0 shutout of the U.V.M. Catamounts, he returned the winner in Midd's 13-11 and 4-2 triumphs over St. Michael's, and the 9-4 victory over Norwich.

With a year's experience to its credit and an increased supply of playing material available, the Midd nine should be a much improved ball club in 1947. Leading his team from behind the plate will be Captain Tommy Cruess.

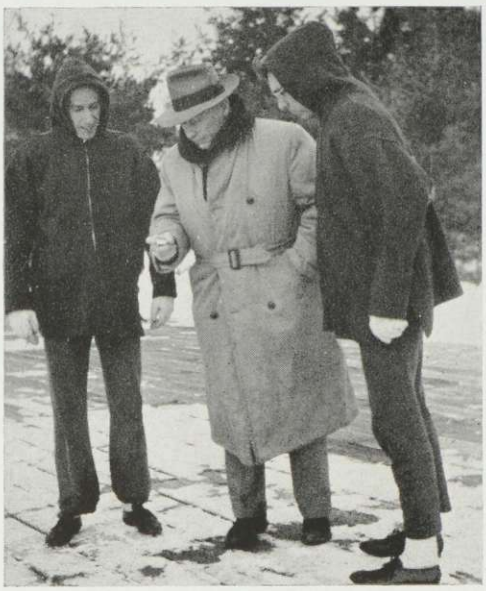
BOARD TRACK RELAY



A Pause During Practice

Middlebury's mile relay team made a fine showing during the 1947 indoor track season. Composed of George Hartz, as lead-off man, Hal Parker, Al Dragone, and Dave Stebbins, with Will Bangs as an alternate, the team participated in three major indoor track meets. The Midd runners were victorious in their group in the Knights of Columbus meet in Boston, triumphing over Boston University, Massachusetts State College, and Springfield. The team placed third in its group in the Millrose Games in New York, nosing out Amherst, and placed third again in the Boston Athletic Association Meet in Boston.

INTRAMURALS

After a wartime lull, intramural sports, participated in by almost ninety per cent of the men's college, began in the fall of 1946. The Alpha Sigs clinched the touch football title with DKE runner-up. Theta Chi won over Chi Psi to secure the volleyball trophy. Tennis finals were rained out, but the winner of the Merrick-Rice match will play Felix Rohatyn in the spring finals. Marty Wittlin won the handball title.

The Alpha Sigs are now ahead in the intramural and varsity-intramural trophy races with Chi Psi and DKE runners-up in each respectively.

TENNIS

Under the management of Edith Gordon '47, the All-Women's College Tennis Tournament took place in spite of unpredictable spring weather. A great many matches had to be defaulted, and as a result, few people were able to receive W.A.A. credit.

The people that turned out were determined, nevertheless, to see that the tournament would be completed. Even during the harried hours between final exams players could be found still battling for the desirable title.

The finals were played during the last few days of the college year. Betsy Drake '47, came through with the title, and Camille Busby '48, was runner-up.

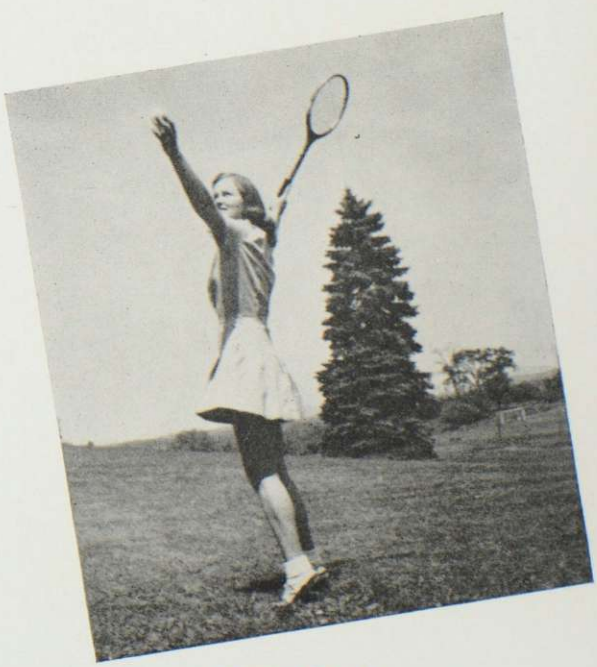
The warm fall of 1946, which ran well into October, brought out a good number of tennis enthusiasts. It is hoped that the weather will be more favorable this spring so that all those interested may have a chance to enter the tournament.

ARCHERY

During the archery season last year, Old Man Weather was up to his old tricks again, preventing a great deal of participation in this sport. Although archery classes were held whenever it was possible, W.A.A. did not sponsor a tournament.

In order to receive W.A.A. credit for archery, a person must play for fifteen hours, and then she is expected to enter the tournament. Archers sign up for hours at the beginning of each season and the tournament is played after all of the practice hours have been completed. In the last tournament held, Muriel Mack '47 was the winner.

The Physical Education Department is eager to use the new equipment which has been recently purchased. We'll surely know it's spring again when Miss Shurtz has the tractor taken out and has the Women's Athletic Field rolled.



Pre-season Warm-up

RIDING

There is a great deal of enthusiasm among the members of the Women's College for riding, and during the fall and spring, when the weather is sunny, groups of riders can be seen taking to the trails almost any afternoon.

The W.A.A. Council has, in the past, offered credit to all women interested in riding who have ridden twelve hours. However, this year it has not done so, and no definite plans have as yet been made for the organization of a riding club, although there are many who are anxious to have one.

The facilities for riders are quite adequate. There are stables very near the campus, and there are any number of beautiful bridle paths and trails. Providing the weather is favorable, W.A.A. hopes to sponsor a horse show in the near future.

HOCKEY

Hockey is one of the favorite sports of the Women's College, and although it is usually considered a fall sport, the college teams also play in the spring. In good weather, games are held nearly every afternoon on the field located between the Château and Forest Hall. The manager of the hockey team this year was Doris Maurer.

Each class has its own teams, and from the first teams of each are chosen the players for the All-Midd team. This year, the All-Midd players were: class of '47, Ann Argyle, Laura-Lee Hopkins, Alice Thorn; class of '48, Beverly Boynton, Camille Buzby, Doris Maurer, Elizabeth Reid, Edith Titus; class of '49, Patricia McFarland, Patricia Schryver; class of '50, Lois Rapp.

Two round robin tournaments were planned but the second had to be canceled because of rain. The first was played, however, and won by the sophomores.

BASKETBALL

The basketball season in 1946, under the management of Gloria Antolini, was marked by the new system of A and B tournaments. Inter-class team competition resulted in the top four teams, one from each class, playing in tournament A. This was won by the seniors, whose captain was Mary Jane Selleck. Tournament B included all other of the original teams and was won by the sophomore team number two, captained by Jean Huey. The All-Midd team chosen from the participants included as forwards: Elizabeth Van Allen, '48, Patricia Perkins and Margaret Drysdale, '49; and as guards, Patricia Salmon and Joan Sherman, '48, and Lura Williams, '49.

VOLLEYBALL

Competition in volleyball, this year under the management of Sally Fisher, was organized into the usual round robin tournament. There were eight teams from which, after the usual practices and games, the junior team number three won. They were led by JoAnne Selleck, the captain. Runner-up was the sophomore team six, under Patricia Perkins; third place was taken by team number one of the seniors, captained by Jean Gunther. From the seniors there were three chosen for the All-Midd team: Jeannette Cunningham, Jean Gunther and Virginia Hodder. The class of 1948 was represented by Camille Buzby, Patricia Salmon and JoAnne Selleck; the sophomore class by Patricia Schryver and Carol Wheeler. Highlight of the season was the Play Day held in conjunction with the University of Vermont.

SKIING

With veteran skiers Polly Hodder, Peg Curtis and Nat Benson ably assisted by the skills of Rose Hull, Pete Salmon, Mary Cameron, Lee Robbins, Jean Smith and Bobbie Merriman, the women's ski team showed promise of a good season this winter. The team traveled with Coach "Joe" Jones to numerous intercollegiate competitions, among which was the second annual College Women's Meet at Manchester. The Middlebury team won this event in 1946.

Middlebury first saw their women skiers at the Winter Carnival. At that time Polly Hodder swept down the slalom and downhill courses to win the annual meet for Middlebury. Her fine scores were backed by the good showing made by the other three women representing the team, Nat Benson, Peg Curtis and Bobbie Merriman.

BADMINTON

The badminton season was one of the few spring sports that was not affected by the poor weather last spring. Under the excellent management of Dorothy Lindemann, badminton started with a program of three practices a week in the gym. This popular activity managed to take the spotlight after basketball hours had been completely chalked up. The turnout for the tournament was unusually large, with about fifty players participating in the sport. During the closely battled semi-finals, doubles were played with the Men's College, in which the women made a good showing. The competition in the elimination tournament was hot and heavy all the way. Finalists Terri Ralph and Sally Fisher had both been undefeated until they met each other on the court. When the scores were finally tabulated Terri Ralph had won the laurels and the cup for 1946.

SOFTBALL

Spring always brings to mind thoughts of baseball and softball and at the same time a desire to participate in one of the two similar games. Softball for the Women's College consisted of vigorous competition between dormitory teams in the 1946 season. Even though the players did not receive W.A.A. credit, the tournaments were well attended. Dorm spirit ran especially high in Hepburn and Painter Halls, these two dormitories having turned out the largest number of players. However, the tournament was incomplete because of the usual rainy spring weather. The total number of games played was about six. Two games were played at a time on the field between Forest Hall and the Château. Jacqueline Ord acted as manager for the all-too-short season.

MODERN DANCE

M. Stevens, secretary; S. March, vice-president; B. Myers, president

The stimulating reception given by the student body to the Modern Dance Club's 1946 spring production was well remembered this fall as the club got under way again with new enthusiasm. The firm leadership of Mrs. Lee, who resumed her position as the club's advisor after several year's absence, and of Mrs. Madden, who did the honors on the accompaniment and lent much helpful advice, was responsible for this excellent spirit. Moreover, the club's staff officers had planned a challenging program of activity. Finally, with the admission of three new members to the Group and a material enlargement of the club, the dance season was under way.

With the purpose of awakening student interest and making money for the future purchasing of costumes, the entire club produced a short program showing basic dance directions and including several brief interpretations of records. Then, with an added sense of security which resulted from at long last having a written constitution and being an officially recognized organization, rehearsals were started for the annual Christmas production. This year it was put on in conjunction with the College Players.

A number of portraits were unusually interpreted and followed by a sensitive rendition of the miraculous French story—"The Juggler of Notre Dame." Jeannette Winans, executing the part of the juggler with sprightliness and superb understanding, was supported by the fine work of the club at large. All choreography for both of these productions was developed by the girls themselves.

Plans for the rest of the year include a trip to New York where the Group will visit the Y.W.H.A. and there present a program in co-operation with the dance groups of several other colleges. Only then will work commence on the spring production, which is always thought of as the climax of the modern dance season. Thus is the appreciation of dance forms perpetuated on the campus of Middlebury.

MORTAR BOARD

Mortar Board is a national honorary society of senior women who, at the end of their junior year, are chosen for their scholastic achievement, capable leadership and effective participation in college activities.

After its annual fall book sale, Mortar Board sponsored the Freshman Outing and gave a Christmas supper party for the house directors. Later it presented a paper on sororities to the freshman women.

Membership in Mortar Board is a great responsibility, for, to fill the aims of the society, members must maintain a high standard of scholarship, encourage fellowship, leadership and service on the women's campus, and, in short, develop finer college women.

WAUBANAKEE

Membership in Waubanakee is the highest honorary award that an undergraduate from the Men's College can receive. The society, founded in 1911, is self-perpetuating and will be as long as a man in his junior year has fulfilled the requirements to the satisfaction of the senior members. Character, scholarship, personality, leadership and extra-curricular activities are among the factors considered in choosing "papooses." The quota of nine has not been filled since 1919.

The organization's insignia is a gold tomahawk pin which symbolizes progress not only in what the members have gained from college, but in the contributions they have made to the college.

BLUE KEY

Blue Key is an honorary society for Middlebury men who have a high academic rating, a notable record in extra-curricular activities, and who have been outstanding in attainment for Middlebury. Membership, determined each May, is limited to twenty-five men from the sophomore, junior and senior classes; the organization now numbers twenty-three.

Among the functions of the society are the training of freshman men, the selling of freshman caps and rules, the purchasing of athletic awards for championship teams and the management of athletic rallies. Each term Blue Key sponsors one dance. Its most important duty however, is to uphold the "Midd Spirit."

"M" CLUB

"M" Club, founded in 1926, is an organization on campus which exists solely to honor those undergraduate or alumni men who have won the letter "M" in the major sports: football, baseball, hockey, basketball, track and skiing. All managers of varsity teams, of intramural sports and freshman football automatically become members as soon as they receive their emblems. It is an honorary organization and its primary purpose is to foster recognition of Middlebury's athletic accomplishments.

Members display their "M" sweaters on various occasions throughout the year to encourage freshman men to acquire the symbol of athletic prowess. The organization now numbers over one hundred members.

PHI BETA KAPPA

The Phi Beta Kappa Society, the oldest Greek letter fraternity, was founded in the Raleigh Tavern at William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia, on December 5, 1776. The Middlebury Chapter, the Beta of Vermont, received its charter August 7, 1868.

Members of the senior class who are of good character, and who have attained an average rank of eighty-nine per cent for six terms at Middlebury, or of eighty-seven and a half per cent for eight terms at Middlebury, are eligible for membership. No more than fifteen per cent of the class in both colleges may be members of the society. The quota has never been filled.

Students graduating from Middlebury who have transferred from other colleges are not ineligible. If they have completed six terms at Middlebury with an average grade of eighty-nine per cent or above, or have completed four terms at Middlebury with an average grade of ninety per cent or above, they may be considered for membership.

Dr. Freeman is president of the chapter; Professor Cook is vice-president; Professor White is secretary-treasurer. The chapter has occasional meetings during the year. It is a tradition of the chapter to have a dinner with a speaker at the Inn on Commencement Sunday noon.

Last June, at the commencement exercises, Gloria A. Antolini, Marian E. Fisher, Barbara L. Grigg, and Jane M. Laux were elected to the society. In December Betty R. Virtue and Nancy C. Surtees were elected to the chapter on the basis of six terms work.

Farewell to the Seniors

Did You Ever Wonder?

Did you ever wonder, what there is about it?
It's hard to put in words, but you'd hate to do without it.
You're up in the mountains so high
You reach up for a piece of the sky,
And when you shake hands with a sunbeam you'll know
Why you love Middlebury.

Did you ever wonder, how it all became
Something that will last, that will always stay the same?
A serenade rising, when all else is still,
The wind sweeping the top of the hill
With chapel bells ringing you can't help but know
Why you love Middlebury.

Carnival Time

When it's Carnival time,
Winter Carnival time,
Take me back, take me back to the college on the hill,
At Carnival time.

When an icing of snow
Has pierced the campus I know,
How I'll be yearning to go
Back at Carnival, Carnival Time.

I'll remember it all,
Klondike Rush and the Ball;
How the Panther of Blue showed us
All what he could do,
At Carnival time.
Once again I'll climb the hill,
Hear the bells when all is still,
When it's Winter Carnival time.

Hymn to Middlebury

The curtain of night has sheltered sunset's glow,
While moonlight casts its silhouette below.
No sound is heard to break the silence deep;
God will keep His watch while Middlebury sleeps.

In Acknowledgment

As the end of the work on the 1948 KALEIDOSCOPE draws near, we pause to reflect upon the events of the past months. Among recollections of long hours of work and numerous problems are the memories of pleasant contacts and new acquaintances. For them, and for the privileges of putting out this book, we are grateful.

For the efforts of each of the following, which were deeply appreciated, may we extend a sincere thanks:

The staff members and sophomore tryouts for their faithful work.

Miss Barbara Drury and later Mr. Gleason of the Worcester Engraving Company for their assistance in planning and engraving.

The Free Press Printing Company, especially Mr. Harry Blodgett and Mr. Russell Farnsworth, for their advice concerning production of the book.

The Kingsport Press and Mr. Nelson for execution of the cover.

Sargent Studio, particularly Mr. Irving Green and Miss Patricia Ray, for their services.

The College Press Office—Mr. George Huban for his assistance and contributions to the book, and Mr. John Street for his co-operation.

Mr. Irwin French and Mr. Robert Summers for assistance with financial aspects.

Nancy Bushnell, Betty Lee Robbins, and Richard Haseltine for all art work.

Mr. Gove, Leon Adkins, John Carter, John Clarkson, Richard Haseltine, Thomas Mariner, Robert Mason, Olaf Remmler, Lionel Slater, and especially Lawrence Willard, for their willing and invaluable contributions of photographs.

F. Anderson, B. Boynton, A. Cadmus, T. Carabillo, M. Davies, A. Deininger, J. Drummond, A. Elting, J. Friend, J. Goeltz, C. Hoose, L. Horn, V. Knudsen, I. Nierhaus, J. Rice, A. Stemmler, J. Swenson, M. Taylor, and J. Whamer of the junior class, and S. Short and P. Turnbull, who aided the staff.

The entire student body for being punctual for appointments and for candid pictures.

We hope that despite curtailment of some features in the book due to present conditions still reflecting war-time influences you will be pleased by this KALEIDOSCOPE.
